Brethren Deny Link To Magazine

7:13 am, 16 May 2007

 Print this story

The Exclusive Brethren is denying any involvement with a magazine that revealed a bestiality film was shown at the home of the Police Commissioner Howard Broad in the 1980s.

The matter has been referred to the Police Complaints Authority.

The man who told the magazine about the film has had links with the church, which led the Prime Minister to imply there might be a link this time around.

But a spokesperson for a group of Brethren businessmen, Neville Simmons, denies there are any connections.
