NEWS UPDATE

Police confirm Brethren sexual abuse investigation Fri-20-Apr-2007 12:26pm

Exclusive Brethren PR man Tony McCorkell

Nelson police have confirmed that they are investigating three historic complaints of sexual abuse by a senior member of the Exclusive Brethren.

Police say the complaints made by three women involve allegations of child molestation over four decades.

The offending is alleged to have taken place between the early 1950s and early 1980s.

Police say they have not yet spoken to the man and are unsure if he is a current or former member of the Exclusive Brethren.

Isn't it strange how 'religious' sects turn up such atrocities all the time? ho-hum, here we go again! Root out this evil! Sounds religious to, doesn't it? Name, Shame, and punish where appropriate! There should be NO hiding place for these truly evil people.

Michael, Dalian
